BIDWELL WILL DO IT.

Let us all pray that Governor Bilbo will take a few days' vacation to be spent somewhere beyond the borders of Mississippi, in order that Bidwell Adam may make good his promise to call the legislature in a special session "within thirty minutes" after Theodore leaves, regardless of the consequences, if a session would relieve distress of the State institution," even if he "knew that body would impeach every man holding an office under the dome of the capitol, and then impeach every member of the legislature, if it would relieve the distress of the State institutions, save the sick, pay off the employees and rescue the suffering." Spoken like a man! And we know Bidwell too well to think that he would fail to carry out his declaration!

THEY ARE RIGHT.

When such Democratic leaders as James A. Reed of Missouri, James Hamilton Lewis of Illinois, Newton D. Baker of Ohio, and others equally prominent, formerly classed as "wets" come out squarely in opposition to Chairman Raskob's recent suggestion that repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment be made the paramount issue in the national campaign next year, it is evidence of the fact that they do not believe it wise for their party to throw away its chance of securing control of the government. They are right in the matter, as there could be no sense in making it either a major or minor issue. The mistakes and failure of the Washington administration afford more than enough ammunition with which to shell the G. O. P. out of place and power.

THERE'S A REASON.

Arthur Brisbane is responsible for the assertion that "as British industry drops, crime rises." The total is comparatively small. One United States city supplies more crime in a year than all the British islands." That is easily understood. In Britain punishment of criminals is sure and swift. There are no long delays in trials and "slick" lawyers are not permitted to resort to means of clearing criminals as are practiced in this country.

GOOD MEN GONE WRONG.

The cost of government—national, State, county and municipal—has been mounting higher and higher during the past few years, and yet who can truthfully assert that more honesty and efficiency in the administration of government has resulted from the increased cost. On the contrary, such is not the case, as is evidenced by the many instances noted in reports from all sections of the country of "good men gone wrong."

MUST SERVE SENTENCE.

The United States supreme court has refused to review the case of Albert B. Fall, former secretary of the interior, convicted of having accepted a bribe of $100,000 from Edward L. Doheny in connection with awarding contracts and leases on naval oil reserve lands. Unless a pardon is granted by President Hoover the aged ex-cabinet member must serve a year's sentence in a penitentiary and pay the fine of $100,000 imposed by the District of Columbia supreme court.

NOW IS THE TIME.

It is officially reported that 1,959,000 ex-soldiers filed applications for bonus payments, and more than $1,000,000,000 has been paid them to date. We agree with Arthur Brisbane when he says "this was an excellent time to pay it out, for immediate distribution. It must be paid some time, money is cheap, and the government can borrow at low interest, if it hasn't the cash on hand. The best time to give money to men is now, when many need it."

SOME LETTUCE.

Jesse French, a Tate County gardener, exhibited a head of lettuce in Senatobia, last week that filled a five gallon dish pan and weighed five pounds and two ounces. That's about the biggest and heaviest head of lettuce we have ever heard of and of course it is true, being vouchered for by the Tate County Democrat.

WE THINK NOT.

When men in high and honorable positions—senators, congressmen, governors and holders of State offices—are exposed as crooks and corruptors, should surprise be expressed when grafters and thieves are found in county and municipal offices? We think not.

Washington, the nation's capital city, is fast acquiring notoriety as a crime center. Murder, bank robbery, burglary and every other crime in the calendar is of almost daily occurrence, and be it said to the everlasting shame of the great and beautiful city much of the unsavory happenings is laid at the door of a corrupt and venal police force.

There are no date, say, on the front cover of the Supreme Court, and in the back there are a few numbers which are the only ones that are of any use.

HARD TO UNDERSTAND.

Occasionally some one is found who champions the interest of the bus and truck lines operating in Mississippi as against the several railroads which have done so much in developing the State. We have not at hand the exact figures showing the amount paid in taxes to the State by the railroads either last year or this, but it runs up into the millions of dollars, while the sum paid by them to train crews, station men and track laborers—all citizens of Mississippi—amounts to even more.

A recent statement from the State auditor's office reveals the fact that the combined taxes and licenses paid by the bus and truck lines this year amounts to less than $18,000, and we seriously doubt if one in ten of the employees who operate such vehicles is a resident of Mississippi. When such comparison is made as to the benefits derived from the operation of the two methods of freight and passenger transportation service accruing to the State it is not a matter of guess work, and just how anyone can favor the bus and truck lines is something we cannot understand.

The bus and truck companies should be made to pay taxes and licenses in such amounts as would compensate in some measure for the damage their operation does the highways and roads constructed with money wrung from the State's citizens and the railroads. To bring that about it is essential that every man seeking election as State senator and representative be forced to commit himself as unequivocally in favor of the passage of legislation as would compel the bus and truck line companies to pay the very highest licenses and tax rates within the power of the lawmakers to levy.

WILL THEY DO IT?

The men who will make up the membership of our next legislature will face the hard task of bringing Mississippi out of the financial morass into which their State has been plunged, due, not in part, but wholly to factional wrangling. That fact being recognized and acknowledged by the qualified electorate of the Commonwealth, it behooves them to exercise care and calm judgment in the selection of their lawmakers. Will they do it?

No man should be chosen as State senator or representative who is not qualified in every respect to discharge the responsible duties that will confront him when he gets to Jackson next January. It will be no child's play for even the biggest and brainiest who are elected to steer the ship of State out of the Sea of Debt in which it has been floundering for the past two or three years. It is only by the election of legislators of recognized fitness and ability that we can hope for the dawn of a better day in our State's governmental affairs and The Echo sincerely believes that there is enough patriotism left in Mississippi electorate to select only such men in the coming election. But will they do it?

THE POPE AND LABOR.

Announcing the views of the Catholic Church, the Pope champions the right of a man to earn enough to keep his family. In a recent announcement he condemns the present economic life as "hard, cruel and relentless in ghastly measure." He also deprecates the degradation of the state by moneyed interests.

To improve the present economic conditions the Pope recommends five principles, as follows: One—A living wage which enables a man to keep his family and save a portion of his income. Two—Better distribution of wealth. Three—Limiting free competition and still more economic domination. Four—A partnership arrangement whereby workers share in business profits. Five—Determination of mutual arrangements between capital and labor according to the laws of strictest justice supported by Christian charity.

This program is, in its essentials, fair and wise. Its application may present many difficulties, but, on the other hand, to successfully bring it about means to eliminate much of the evil of our present social order.

WHAT GUARANTEE IS THERE?

President Hoover received a larger number of votes in Mississippi than any other Republican candidate in the past, not because there were more Republicans but due to the fact that a considerable number of Democrats voted for him through fear that the Pope of Rome would meddle with our country's government in the event Alfred E. Smith was elected to the Presidency. To-day some of the Democratic traitors of 1928 have expressed regret for their acts of party disloyalty and have asked forgiveness. Their vows of repentance would have a truer ring of sincerity if some of them were not seeking public office at the hands of the Democratic voters of Mississippi. First of all, the Hoovercrats should have the good sense and decency to "sit on the mourners bench" for a while longer before they ask for political preferment by the party they deserted. What guarantee is offered that they will not again prove traitors to the Democratic organization?

MAY BE BETTER.

There is a report printed in some of our exchanges to the effect that Governor Bilbo is to become pastor of the Juniper Grove Baptist church after he retires from the executive office. The Echo refuses to believe that Theodore will do anything of the kind. There isn't enough excitement in the ministry for him and he has dabbled in politics so long the pulpit is no place for him—though we concede the possibility that he might make a better preacher than he has as the governor of a great State.

PROBABLE NOMINEE.

It looks more and more like Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt will be the Democratic nominee for president next year, as his name is most of the time mentioned in reports coming in from every section of the country, and his successful small business administration vote of New York is an equally successful indication of a Democratic victory in the national election. The Democratic Party is now in a position to win the election, and the only question is whether or not it will.

JUNE—MONTH OF LOVE AND HAPPY VACATION DAYS

By JOHN T. MEYERS
(For The Sea Coast Echo)

Once again June, long proclaimed a month of love, romance, and adventure, has crossed the threshold of existence. Everywhere happy scenes tend to prove that Dan Cupid has an abundant and inexhaustible supply of arrows in his kit, and that the little fellow's aim is almost infallible once his "usually" unresisting victim has been spotted.

While Dan Cupid has long held the limelight as the modern day Captain Kidd of hearts, it should be remembered the month of June offers many aids to this little god of love.

For instance: A June night—the fragrant odor of flowers fills the balmy breeze with intoxicating perfume—birds chirp love sonnets from the tree tops—the beach, woodlands, and highways are drenched in the silver satined beauty of a June moonlight, as the boy and girl stroll hand in hand along the paths of romance.

Mr. Cupid closely follows, and at the opportune time draws his bow that sends an arrow of love through two, and echoes with happy and melodious wedding bells—later.

Another marksmanship medal for Captain Cupid, and another "bachelor girl" and gay bachelor career has fallen before the more worthy calling of matrimony. In the terms of the gangsters, it seems that Cupid has his victims on the "spot" from the very start. But who cares? Ask anyone in love.

Besides being the "open season" for lovers, June has many other features worthy of note. Dreams of vacation days through the long winter months are about to materialize. The highways are roaring with vacationing motorists enroute home for a visit. School terms are ended, and the combined whoops and shouts of the children give expression to the carefree thought—"happy days are here again."

CURRENT COMMENT

For The Sea Coast Echo.

"WHAT FOOLS THESE MORTALS BE"

At a banquet for American mayors, given in Paris, two visiting officials walk out because wine is served, stating that they believe in following the Constitution of the United States even on foreign soil. Their motives may be praiseworthy but their reasoning is faulty. They could not very well follow the Constitution into a country to which the Constitution has not yet gone. The wets will denounce them as bores, the dries praise them as torch-bearers, and the neutral smile at them as poor lawyers.

DOES THE DEAD NO GOOD.

The family of Alfred Wegener, who headed the German expedition into Greenland, have decided that his body is to rest in Arctic waste in which he met his end. "The instinct that prompts most of us to bring the bodies of the departed back to the home-land, is gentle and tender, but it does the dead no good, and often imposes upon the living, a burden which the dead would have sought to avoid. After all, "Where should the soldier sleep but where he fell?"

SUPPLY WITHOUT LIMIT.

The Soviet organization advertises jobs for the jobless, films the resulting mob for the purposes of propaganda, and sends those who respond away empty-handed, a scurvy trick to which even the heartless old regime of the Czar would not have stooped. Those of the workers who have pinned their faith to Russian Communism will find, as time goes by, that the supply of gold bricks is without limit.

THE MAN MUST BE SICK.

Diogenes, in search of an honest man, could have blown out his lamp, had he been operating in New York, as a seventy-two year old citizen of that state, finding that he is able to work, returns his old age pension stipend.

FOLLY OF A LIE.

The trust of little Willie, up in Yonkers, in his parents, has received a jolt which will last him a life-time. To keep him away from the river, his step-mother told him that a boy had been drowned. He believed it, passed the story on to the police, and the cops dragged the Hudson for an hour for the non-existing body. The maxim "Do evil that good may come of it" doesn't always work out as expected.

CHURCH AND STATE AGAIN.

Spain and Italy have new troubles of their own, arising out of the relations between Church and State. The subject is one which cannot be discussed without acrimony and offense, and the United States is to be congratulated upon being remote from the discussion. The police established by the founders of the government fortunately has never been disturbed, and we are left free in our religious and political preferences. To a degree unknown to much of continental Europe.

With a raise in Federal taxes as a small but clearly visible cloud on the horizon, economy continues to be urged. The navy is willing to do its share, and as a first step has put a stop to hoisting down the decks of vessels, because it wears them out.

One of the Gold Star Mothers, on the Gold Star Mothers' day, has been named Mrs. Mary E. Smith, of New York, who has lost her only son, a member of the American Red Cross, in the service of the United States.

The Railroad of a Great Empire

A Message from
L. A. Downs,
President,
Illinois Central System.

Dependable for 80 Years

The Illinois Central System is producer of transportation service for a great inland empire, the economic heart of the United States.

Fourteen states with a population of 38,500,000 and with 56,900 industrial plants having an output of $18,300,000,000 a year constitute this empire.

This empire produces one-third of the cotton, three-fifths of the grain, one-third of the tobacco, nearly all the sugar cane, one-half of the livestock, three-tenths of the lumber, one-third of the coal and seven-tenths of the iron ore that are produced in the country.

Serving this great empire day in and day out—hauling its freight, carrying its passengers, contributing to its upbuilding—is the task to which the Illinois Central System is committed.

Constructive criticism and suggestions are invited.

Chicago, June 1, 1931.

THE ILLINOIS CENTRAL SYSTEM

This is the first of a series of sketches descriptive of this railroad. Others will follow, telling about its properties, its owners, its personnel and its patrons.

THERE AND BACK BY TELEPHONE

QUICKLY AND AT SMALL COST

WHATEVER your business—whether you spend all or part of your time on the road—you can save time, some trips, valuable time and avoid large expense accounts by using the modern, high speed long distance telephone service.

The personal touch that your voice alone can give, the advantage of getting an immediate answer and the low cost of the service are causing more and more people to turn to the telephone for out-of-town business and social contacts. The next time a trip seems necessary or a letter inadequate, try telephoning instead. In most cases, Station-to-Station service will answer every need, and you will be surprised at the small cost. Ask "Long Distance" for rates.

Personal and General Notes of Week From Waveland and Vicinity

V. E. WEBER Box 184
Waveland, Miss.

On Sunday June 7th, the Ivanhoe Commandery No. 102, T. of New Orleans, with its 40-piece brass band, will hold their annual picnic at Chas. C. Brown's home on the beach near Coleman avenue. The party will arrive by special train. All local Sir Knights are cordially invited to attend.

The Board of Mayor and Aldermen of Waveland held a regular meeting on Tuesday, June 2, 7:30 P. M. A petition from the Waveland Baseball club requesting financial assistance was received and the neat sum of seventy five dollars was unanimously voted for that purpose.

The Board ordered that in future all gasoline be purchased from local filling stations.

Two signs, "Protect Waveland School Children" presented by American Legion Clement R. Bontemps Post of Hancock County were accepted and ordered put up at once near the Waveland public school.

Mayor Schwartz was authorized to purchase two similar signs to be placed on the beach.

Mrs. Maud Bourgeois was appointed trustee to succeed Mr. W. B. Jackson who has moved to Gulfport. Mrs. Bourgeois is the second lady on the school board.

The town's attorney, Hon. R. L. Genin was authorized to take the necessary steps to have the telephone and electric light poles removed from the street on Nicholson avenue and placed on the curb so that they will not obstruct traffic or interfere with the road machinery.

The city fathers went on record favoring a paving program. Their plans are to set aside enough money each year to hard surface one mile of road. This method seems to be more popular than a bond issue which would add a large amount to the taxes. Waveland has had the reputation of having the lowest taxation of any municipality on the Coast and expects to continue to uphold this.

IMPROVEMENTS

The air mail division of the Dept. of Commerce, has leased from Dr. C. W. Allen of New Orleans a portion of the old Perkins Farm, Waveland, and O. S. T. The tract will be put in condition for an emergency landing field.

There will be suitable beacons, foghorns and the usual aids, including illumination at night, to enable a plane to find its way under all conditions. Work will begin at once.

Mr. A. R. Johnson has been awarded the contract for the fence. This is another boost for our progressive town.

Mr. Jacobs of New Orleans will open a cake and party bakery on R. R. avenue and Terrace. Work on the oven will be started to day. Some time ago we mentioned in the Echo that a good field was open here for a live and energetic baker. Mr. Jacobs has taken the hint and we welcome him to our town and will do all we can to make his venture a success. Watch this column for other hints.

Mr. Jno. Moree one of our live business men, believing in the future of his home town, has completed his building on Coleman avenue. He will manufacture all kinds of pottery and ornamental concrete designs.

ECHOES FROM PASS CHRISTIAN BEACH ACROSS THE BAY

Items Here and There of Personal and General Interest For Echo Readers

Pass Christian, Miss., June 3.—It was nuptial at the weekly meeting of Pass Christian Rotary last Tuesday Bay St. Louis was represented, C. G. Moreau, president of the Bay Club, also H. U. Canty, popular coast-wide Rotarian, were among those present. Only three weeks more and our own club will witness the installation of the new officers for the thirty and those who seek to buy something nifty, dainty and yet not expensive. Mr. O'Kelley has been operating the sports shop and tea room for some time and has been accorded a popular patronage, however, wishing to expand the usefulness and popularity of his establishment and wishing to be competent as the genial Guy Hanson, he formed this co-partnership and, since Mr. Hanson is a registered druggist has put in a full line of drugs. The building occupied is perhaps better known as the home of the former Home-Mark of Pass Christian, a substantial and most attractive building, inviting to the extreme to the popular to drop in and bide a wee.

Mrs. Carey Spence, well-known beauty specialist, has moved her beauty shop from its former location in the Rafferty building, to her own home, opposite the Kozy Theater, beach front, and, of course her well-kept home is just as well as she offers as ever. In fact, she will have more time at home, able to handle more patronage and seeks to expand her service over a large territory. Mrs. Spence is experienced and guarantees satisfaction.

Dr. D. G. Rafferty has been quite ill from pneumonia and his condition has been such as to be anything but favorable. Dr. Rafferty is well known and much apprehension is felt as to the outcome.

Tom Lundy, former "pro" at Pine Hills Golf Club and now in the same capacity at the Greenville (Miss.) Country Club, has been spending a few days at "the Pass", visiting under the parental roof and mingling with friends of former days, accompanied by his wife and children. Of course he is back home visiting relatives and friends, but it is debatable whether his playing more golf or rather visiting.

Pass Christian appreciates the editorial endorsement given John H. Lang editorially in The Echo last week on the occasion of his announcement as a candidate for representative for Harrison county. The home newspaper, Tarpon-Beecon, endorsed it by reproducing the article in question.

Charley Taylor, former Pass Christian "boy", has taken over the prescription department of the Hanson Drug Store, and is not only back to be home after a long absence but invites the visit to his place of acquaintance and the public in general.

The amusement pavilion and filling station and general refreshment place of John T. McDonald, Jr., and his associate, at Henderson Point is fast approaching completion and will be ready for opening within the next week or ten days. It is one of the finest and largest buildings of its kind on the Coast and a liberal and substantial patronage for this enterprise is most promising.

WORK AND PLAY AT S. J. A.

CHILDREN OF MARY SPEND ENJOYABLE DAY AT NAVAL RESERVE PARK

A majority of the High School girls filled into the six machines that left the convent grounds last Thursday morning at about nine-thirty. The cars were all bound for the Naval Reserve Park back of Biloxi which the Children of Mary had selected for their picnic.

The girls had a lovely time swimming, rowing, playing ball and roaming around at will. Ice cream and pop were therein abundance and as the cars rolled into the convent at six o'clock all their occupants reported a most "wonderful time."

S. J. A. TO HOLD COMMENCEMENT.

Miss Eleanor Attaway is to deliver the Welcome address and Miss Cora Sudkamp is to be the Valedictorian of her class.

"Deeds Not Dreams," is the motto of Class '31. Maroon and White are the class colors and the class flower a white rose.

Rev. Father Spengler of Biloxi will address the graduates while the honors and diplomas are to be conferred by the Pastor Father Gmelch. The pupils of the eighth grade are also to receive their certificates next Saturday night.

The commencement exercises will close with the distribution of medals and honors.

MAY QUEEN FESTIVAL PRONOUNCED LOVELY BY ALL

The festival held here last Sunday evening turned out wonderfully after all in spite of the unwelcome shower which came at six o'clock and which dampened all hopes of success as well as the newly decorated booths which had just been fixed up for the affair.

The chicken spaghetti supper was delicious and seemed to have been much enjoyed by those who partook of it. Special thanks for the success of the supper are due to Mrs. Scafield by whom the most of the chickens used for the supper were prepared. This was a colossal task and we are very thankful to Mrs. Scafield for the trouble to which she put herself in our behalf.

Crowning of the May Queen and her court made a most lovely picture. The sight of the Queen and King as they wended their way around the gym followed by their maids and Dukes was pronounced "beautiful" by all who saw it.

We will not repeat here as the Festival has already been described for you elsewhere in this paper, but we do wish to congratulate our Queen,

Graduate from A. & M.

Among the members of Class '31, A. & M. College of Mississippi, is Ralph S. Blaize, Jr., who graduated from the department of electrical engineering and J. Charles Tremoulet Jr., from the department of civil engineering, both of Bay St. Louis.

Mr. Blaize is a graduate from St. Stanislaus College and Mr. Tremoulet graduate of Bay High School, both capable young men and worthy members of their respective alma mater.

MARRIED, SATURDAY, MAY 30.

Mr. Roy Collins of New Orleans to Miss Elizabeth Fayard of Bay St. Louis, Miss.

Mr. Collins for many years has been in the employ of the Shell Oil Company. Miss Fayard is the youngest daughter of Mrs. Matilda Gallup. The couple left at once for their future home in New Orleans.

Miss Elise Lizana and her King, Mr. John Hynes.

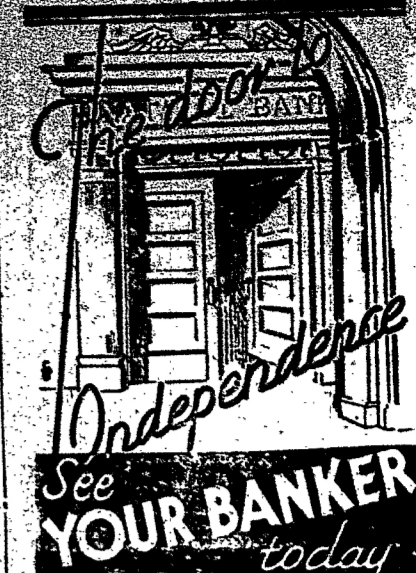

Neither will we again go into detail concerning the entertainers of the court except to thank each and every one of those who took part in the programs both before the supper for the pretty numbers which each provided.

The festival netted more than three hundred dollars to the gym debt fund a most gratifying amount considering the shortness of the time during which the affair was gotten up.

S. J. A. feels particularly grateful to Mrs. Genin and Mrs. Staehle to whose untiring energy and unflagging interest the success of the festival is mainly due. Mrs. Capdepon and the ladies who helped her at the cake booth are also to be congratulated and thanked for their work.

To our ever faithful Miss Mary Perkins who helped to direct the staging of the crowning we are also thankful as well as to the Stanislaus band for the delightful music provided by them during the festival.

For the many friends, too numerous to name here who gave donations to the various booths or who helped in any way whatsoever to make the festival the great success that it was, S. J. A. breathes fervent prayer that He who sees in secret will repay as abundantly as is His wont. Again to one and all we say thank you.

Matchless economy with six-cylinder smoothness

"Better than 20 miles to the gallon." "Its cost-per-mile is the lowest of any car." "Never have to add oil between crankcase changes." "Drove from Ohio to California on a repair expense of $1.05." "It just runs and runs and runs."

—typical comments from owners of the Chevrolet Six

Chevrolet's 152" frame supports the body through-out its entire length

answer lies in five outstanding factors of Chevrolet economy:

1. Efficient Engine Design

makes Chevrolet fuel consumption so low that 20 miles to the gallon of gasoline is nothing unusual for a Chevrolet owner.

2. Modern Chassis Design

as evidenced by Chevrolet's long heavy frame, four parallel-mounted springs, and smooth-running six-cylinder engine—increases the ability of the Chevrolet Six to run dependably, day after day.

3. Excellence of Materials

facture also adds to Chevrolet dependability and long life. Chevrolet pistons, for instance, are built so carefully, and held true to such close limits of precision, that many owners have gone 20,000 miles or more without having their motors opened for major servicing.

4. High-Quality Materials

REFORESTATION ONE OF OUTSTANDING ELEMENTS TO CONSERVE COUNTRY

K. E. Kimball, District Forester, Says Reforestation and Live Stock Raising Will Furnish Best Solution of Cut-Over Land Problem—Gives Echo Correspondent Interview.

By W. D. ROBINSON

Reforestation and live stock raising will furnish the best solution of the cut-over land problem, in the opinion of K. E. Kimball, district forester of the Mississippi Forest Service, with headquarters at Wiggins, Stone county.

Mr. Kimball points out that reforestation will form the basis for several large industries, particularly the manufacture of paper, by supplying raw materials. It is one sure way, he believes, to put the coast area on a permanently prosperous basis.

"It is my feeling," Mr. Kimball said, "that not nearly enough emphasis is being laid on the possibilities of our cut-over land or on its present harmful influence on the development of the coast region."

"By harmful influence I mean the economic burden its relative non-productiveness lays on all other developments—something of the profits of all our gainful pursuits goes to pay the overhead on these lands. A generation or less ago the source of the greater part of the tax revenue in most of our South Mississippi counties was timber lands. Even though they were not assessed very high, still, with the lesser county revenues then required, they lifted much of the tax burden from the farmers, home owners, etc."

"With the years there has come a shifting of the tax burden from timber, a natural resource, to improved property. Of course there has been an increase in county expenditures, but much of the distress due to high taxes is on account of decreased assessed valuation."

"The cut-over lands are potentially as big a source of county revenue as ever, but first they must be permitted to return to something of the same condition they were in a generation ago. This is entirely possible, but requires the expenditure of public as well as private funds and an organized effort."

"Turning now to the possibilities of the cut-over land, it has been shown that second growth Southern pine will make perfectly good white pine and bond paper. Knowing, as you doubtless do, the high cost and scarcity of pulp wood in the North, it is quite evident that, if the raw material were present in sufficient quantities here, there would be a tendency for the newspaper paper industry to migrate South. The various journals devoted to the paper industry are already discussing such a possibility. Noting the trend of industry, especially those using forest products as a raw material, it is evident that the new pine forests of this region will not be largely harvested via the saw mill, but rather by way of industries depending on chemical formulas."

"Besides the paper mills, there is the cellulose industry, which can use other woods besides pine; the wall board industry, like the masonite plant at Laurel; the wood preservative industry and the naval stores industry, which chemists tell us is due for a great expansion because of the discovery of elements in rosin not heretofore exploited. Already Mississippi has been examined by agents of some of these industries and found wanting. If we prepare by producing the raw material we will get the industries."

"These new industries will be heavily capitalized, will be the source of large pay rolls, will be permanent, will attract population and correlary subsidiary industries, will greatly increase assessed valuations, will increase land values, will create a home market for farmers' produce and will in every way stimulate the life and development of this region."

"These industries will use second growth timber in small sizes, thus shortening the time between timber crops. They will not, as was the case of saw mills, cause the land to be stripped of its growth, because such plants with their large capitalization and permanent character, must have a constant supply of raw material and will encourage proper forestry practice among the land owners of the country as a necessity to their own well being."

"While we cannot, because of our soil types and economic conditions generally, hope for a large increase in cultivated land in this region, we can hope for the development of cattle and sheep raising on a scale much greater than now. To accomplish this it is necessary to protect the range from fire. Four years of such protection in the Pascagoula forest preserve area has already brought very beneficial results. Stockmen are now testifying that the superiority of the range kept rough over the range that is annually burned. There is nothing about timber raising that is detrimental to stock raising as practiced on the open range."

"From an examination of the facts it appears that much of the future development of this region depends on rehabilitating the cut-over lands. First, because of the drag of these lands on present and future development and the threat they offer of becoming an absolute burden because of tax delinquency. Second, because of the great possibilities of industrial development through the growing of a new and constant timber crops on cut-over lands, which are largely valuable for little else, and thereby setting in motion a long train of highly desirable and beneficial results. Third, the cut-over lands offer an inducement for expansion of beef and wool production much exceeding the possibilities of past years."

"All these possibilities are dependent on organized forest protection under a common leadership. This requires funds and the various counties should adopt measures to secure them. Under a law passed at the last regular session of the Legislature the counties are permitted, for the first time, to appropriate money for forest protection. An effort has been made to secure such funds in Harrison and other counties. The Jackson and Jackson counties will make such appropriations next year. Harrison county should do the same."

"I feel that individuals and public spirited organizations should demand immediate forest protection for our cut-over lands and public beginning to see the value of such protection, it will be a lot of our distress that this time can be tracked quite directly to the improvidence of hundreds of thousands of acres being sold for the purpose of raising money for the improvement of the coast region. The improvement of the coast region is the only way to put the coast area on a permanently prosperous basis."

THE ECHO'S COOKING CLASS

Much is being said and written now a days about "old time Southern cooking"—they were marvelous cooks and many recipes have been handed down from generation to generation. However, the modern dietitian and chefs have improved our diet in many ways, especially as to our health and digestion. So it behooves us to use our judgment when deciding on our menus.

Creole Gumbo
8 crabs,
2 lbs. shrimp,
1 lb. ham,
1 lb. fresh okra,
1 lb. can tomatoes,
1 large onion,
1 pod garlic,
1 sprig thyme.
Brown a tablespoon of flour in hot lard; add onion and garlic chopped fine; let brown. Add crabs and shrimp that have been cleaned and picked thoroughly, let brown; stir in can of tomatoes; stirring continually, until a rich brown; add okra cut in small pieces; let simmer about ten minutes; add diced ham, pour on ten cups hot water; season with salt, cayenne, parsley and thyme; cover and cook slowly for two hours.

Shrimp à la Creole
2 lbs. shrimp,
1 lb. can tomatoes,
1 large bell pepper,
1 large onion.
Wash thoroughly in cold water, the shrimp; shell them, rinse again. Brown one tablespoon of flour in one tablespoon of bacon grease; add chopped onion, brown; stir in tomatoes, bacon; add shrimp and bell pepper. Let cook ten minutes, stirring continually; add two cups hot water. Season with salt, cayenne, thyme, bayleaf and parsley. Serve with rice cooked very dry.

Stuffed Eggplants
Select medium sized egg plants; cut in half, lengthwise; soak in cold salt water for one hour; wash in clear water and let until dry. Scoop out, being careful not to break the skin. Put in the chopping bowl with one onion, one pod garlic, parsley, one bell pepper, half pound can of tomatoes, half pound of shrimp, one cup bread crumbs, pinch of cayenne chopped very fine. Fry together in butter; fill skins with this mixture, sprinkle with bread crumbs and run into oven for a few minutes.

MISSISSIPPI WILL IMPROVE 10-MILE HIGHWAY 90 LINK

Surface Treatment Planned From La.-Miss. Line Toward Bay St. Louis And Coast

Surface treatment of a 10-mile link of United States Highway 90, from the Louisiana-Mississippi line toward Bay St. Louis will be started within the next several weeks, Sam J. Dalton, chief of maintenance of the State Highway Department, said Saturday at Jackson.

Asphalt tar or a similar bituminous substance will be used for treating the highway, the engineer said, pointing out that the project was one of several experimental links the State Highway Commission has planned to test various substances for surfacing. Mr. Dalton said a distributing machine purchased for this work has been delivered here and will do its initial work on the coast project. The Bay St. Louis road has a heavy flow of Orleans coast traffic and treatment will eliminate the dust nuisance as well as preserve the newly graded stretch, it was pointed out.

AFTER TAX DODGERS

That the bus lines operating in Mississippi, already assessed with far less than their just share of the burden of maintaining the highway system, are evading the tax imposed by statute is plainly intimated in a letter written by Auditor Carl White to the county tax collectors. Mr. White says that a careful tabulation shows that these companies during the past year have paid less than $18,000 to the state; that inasmuch as section 5602 of code imposes a tax of from $75 to $600 on bus lines, there must either be a misunderstanding relative to the tax or it is being evaded.

The auditor earnestly insists that the law be strictly enforced in order that the state may receive the revenue to which it is entitled, and he fully instructs the county tax collectors how to apply the law to the motor transportation.

It is this vigilance and courage in the performance of duty that has made Auditor White the most capable man who has held this position within the memory of this generation. Perhaps he has made himself quite unpopular with some of the tax dodgers, but his energy and constant watchfulness have placed into the state treasury an amount several hundred times more than the salary he is paid.—Jackson News.

OUR HUSBANDS

Percy McDonald Has Own Way of Diminishing Late-Staying Dinner Guests

Mrs. W. Percy McDonald tells about her husband in the following article. McDonald is a lawyer, member of the Airport Commission and chairman of the County School Board.

By MRS. W. PERCY McDONALD.
(As told to Marie Parks in Memphis Commercial Appeal)

My husband is enthusiastic about his work, aviation, the county school board, his friends, and everything he likes.

Mae is neat personally and his office is neat, as he so often defends himself to me, but I believe he must enjoy tumbling up his room. He can do more damage in a neat room than a whirlwind.

When Mae walks in or out of the front door he always leaves it standing open. He never locks anything when I'm at home. I don't know what he does when I'm gone.

Mae is an early riser and makes most of his social calls before breakfast or for breakfast. He gets up singing and whistling and takes drives early in the morning. Our little girl, Jean 4, is usually awake, and she goes with him. She calls him her "sweet daddy."

We also have two boys, aged 11 and 9. Mae carries all three up the stairs at one time. He loves to romp with the boys, and sometimes they're awfully noisy.

Mae is very quick about everything, but he's almost always late. He thinks that he can get so much done in a shorter time than other people that he never allows himself enough time to get places. I've heard him confidently make plans when I was sure he couldn't get there.

In a crowd I could never get lost from Mae. He has a peculiar whistle like a canary bird, and I could always find him. He whistles a lot. I'd rather dance with him than any man I know. He has lost interest in dancing, but he still is good.

Mae plays handball every day. His favorite vacation is a fishing trip up in the Canadian woods. He carries a canoe on his back, and we sleep in a tent at night.

If he has to make a trip thru the day he always prefers going in a plane. He's very fond of radio. Brunswick stew is his culinary masterpiece. His favorite way of having friends over is for his stew parties.

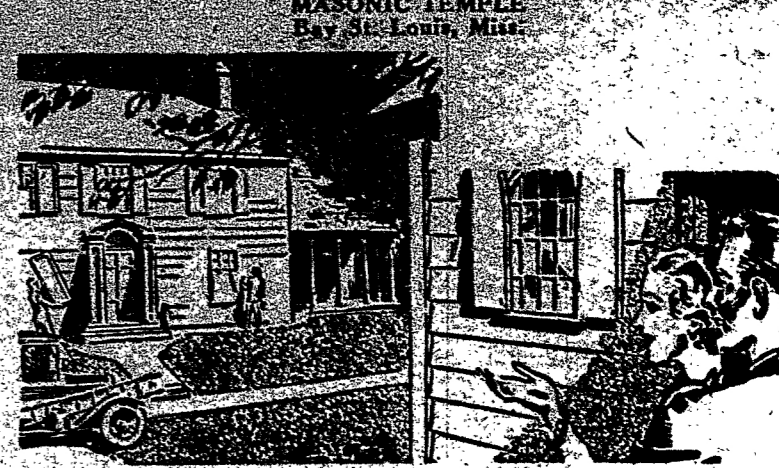

In hot weather we have a big black pot in the back yard, like a gypsy camp, and he has his parties outside. He has had several stag parties thru the summer while I was out of town.

No Late Guests
He likes to "boss the party." That's why he'd rather have people come to see us than to go places. He never expects dinner guests to stay long. Usually he gets sleepy and just announces "Well, I'll have to go to bed. I'm tired. I have to get up early in the morning." He often takes a nap in the picture show. His tiredness comes all of a sudden, and then he's off. I've often heard him ask people "Don't you ever go home?"

Mae is very much interested in schools, and wouldn't miss a school board meeting for anything. He has a happy and sociable disposition. Quite a nice husband.

PAINS QUIT COMING

"I tried almost everything that was recommended to me, but found nothing that would help until I began taking Cardui. My mother thought it would be good for me, so she got a bottle of Cardui and started me taking it. I soon improved. The bad spells quit coming. I was soon in normal health."
